

Port Washington Farmers Market Market Rules

We pledge to do everything we can to operate a safe and healthy market space to provide the community a seasonal gathering place where local farmers and entrepreneurs can sell their locally-grown and locally-made products directly to the customers, building a connection between the food we eat and its origin. Our goal is to provide healthy foods, unique specialty goods and gifts, kid-friendly education, and most importantly, a place to meet, shop and support local businesses.

The Port Washington Farmers Market is a producer-only market - all products must be grown or made by the vendor. While there may be special exceptions to this rule, it will be case-by-case, year-to-year. All products that vendors intend to sell must be included on the application and approved by Market Management.

Code of Conduct:

Vendors are required to follow a code of conduct that provides great customer service and good relations with fellow vendors. If conflict arises, it is the vendor's responsibility to involve Market Management. We are always available during market hours to help handle and diffuse a conflict when necessary.

Signage:

All vendors are encouraged to display a large (suggested minimum 12" x 24") sign stating the name and location of the farm or business. All vendors are required to display prices of products being sold. If any product has been accepted into the market by Market Management that was not produced directly by the vendor (such as a product not offered by any other vendor but still farmed or produced locally), there must be signage displayed stating origin of product. Certified Organic products must be clearly labeled, with proof of valid certification provided at market upon request; the same is necessary for all required licenses and certifications.

Application:

Applications are due by April 1, 2022. Final confirmation of vendor status/dates by Market Management will be made no later than May 1, 2022. Once Market Management has contacted you to confirm participation, you must pay your market fees.

Applicants must list on application all products they intend to sell. Market Management shall review and then accept or deny products. Vendors adding new items during the season must first submit in writing at least one week in advance, and have approval from Market Management before selling those items. The Market Management has the right to do farm or site visits to view production or products. All vendors are required to comply with applicable local, state, and federal laws, rules, and regulations. The vendors must comply with all applicable food safety regulations. Vendors are required to obtain all appropriate permits or licenses, and have ready to provide upon request at each market (see section below).

Participation Options on Application:

FULL SEASON vendors are expected to be present each week and pay a seasonal fee ($300 for the season for one 15' stall; $375 for the season for a 20' stall, or $450 for the season for a double 15' stall).

HALF SEASON vendors will attend the market twice per month and pay a seasonal fee ($150 for one 15' stall, $185 for one 20' stall, or $225 for a double 15' stall).

PART-TIME In order to have the greatest diversity of products at the market and to accommodate vendors who only wish to participate occasionally, we create part-time vending opportunities. Such participation is subject to space available. Vendors can select the dates they hope to be at the market, which are less frequent than weekly, and they pay a daily fee of $25. Approval is based on availability at the market.

ADD'L STALLS There are 6 additional stalls for area businesses and community organizations to sell goods, provide information or charitable works. These stalls are for one-time or occasional use during the season by community businesses, churches, and non-profits.

Licenses/Permits/Insurance:

The vendor is responsible for obtaining all licenses and permits required for the sale of his/her product to the public. Vendors are also responsible for their own insurance. All produce must be sold by legal weights and measures. Sellers are responsible for having their scales certified for compliance.

Market Set-Up Procedures:

Please read carefully as some have changed

Trucks and vehicles may begin set up at 6:30 AM. All vendors must arrive with their vehicle by 8 AM. If you arrive late, you will not be admitted into the market with your vehicle, as this is a safety issue. Since this is a new rule this season, we will allow a grace period of 15 minutes. After that, you must park elsewhere and haul items over if you still wish to participate. No refunds will be given. There is to be no packing up early, all vendors must stay open until 1 PM. The only exceptions are incumbent weather or emergency. Clean up must be completed in one hour or less, because of parking hours allotted on the street.

We look forward to a busy, safe, and fun market season!
